Seen & Heard Around MURRAY

Almost any kind of observance has its sad side.

Take yesterday. Five remaining charter members of the Murray Rotary Club were recognized at the regular meeting of the club here.

Four are not active members now and one is Mr. Vernon Stubblefield is the one still active. H. B. Bailey, Sr., John Rowlett, John McElrath and G. B. Scott, Sr. are the other four.

There were twenty to begin with. That was 40 years ago.

O. B. Boone, Sr. brought us some Gems of Thought, put out by his church.

Here are a few, all based on the thought of "Slow Down".

No man who is in a hurry is quite civilized—Will Durant. Rushing around smartly is no proof of accomplishing much. Mary Baker Eddy.

Manners require time, and nothing more vulgar than haste—Emerson. Wisely and slowly—they submit that run fast—Shakespeare.

Though I am always in haste, I am never in a hurry—John Wesley.

Another reason to slow down is to ward off the arch killer, coronary thrombosis.

Sorry to hear about Myrtle Farmer's heart attack. You will meet no one nicer than Myrtle.

Carl Kingins too had a tough break.

Life at its best is a series of crisis, so it all boils down to your outlook.

If your outlook is good, whatever your status in life, then life is good. If your outlook is not good, then life is no good, again whatever your status.

All of which brings us around to the subject of mental health and how important it is to daily living. This is something a person has to work on himself, because he has the key within himself.

A person has to teach himself how not to hate, how not to criticize, how to find fault, how not to be envious. These are natural to any human being.

If you can win over the above, then your mental health is on the upswing.

The local Mental Health Association could use your support, both moral and financial.

Joseph B. Williams

Joe Williams Is Speaker For Rotary

Attorney Joseph Williams was the speaker yesterday at the regular meeting of the Murray Rotary Club. Williams moved to Murray recently to begin the practice of law after a period of 25 years associated with state and Federal agencies.

He recounted to the club some of his early experiences in the state government during the terms of office of A. B. Chandler and Keen Johnson. At that time he was in the revenue department of the state and aided in formulating some of the policies of the department.

He was with the Veterans Administration of the Federal government for 17 years and gave the Rotary some of his thinking on how the agency is operated, the pension system, control from a central government, patronage and other features which he met while with the administration.

Mr. Williams maintains a law office here in Murray and his family will move to Murray to be with him when school is out in June. Ronald Churchill introduced the remaining five charter members of the Murray Rotary Club. They were guests of the club yesterday.

John McElrath, John Rowlett, G. B. Scott, Sr. and H. B. Bailey, Sr. are not active in the club, and Vernon Stubblefield, Sr. who is still active.

Churchill gave a short history of the club which was organized here on April 4, 1924. The club will observe its 40th anniversary this year.

He concluded his talk by saying that "The Federal government is a primary and unwieldy organization while the state government is just about what the people want it to be."

Stubblefield Will Be Opposed By Two Candidates In Primary

By CAROLE MARTIN
United Press International

FRANKFORT, Ky. (UPI)—Two incumbent U.S. representatives today were assured their party's nominations for re-election. Four others faced primary opposition and, in the 5th District, voters must choose from among 18 candidates to fill a pending vacancy.

A total of 49 candidates, including three women and three Negroes, filed for congressional races, 31 for the 7th Circuit Court of Appeals contest, and one Democrat and one Republican seek to fill an unexpired term for commonwealth's attorney in the 28th Judicial District.

When Secretary of State Thelma Stowell officially closed the books on candidates for multi-county primary races May 26 at midnight Thursday, U.S. Reps. William H. Natcher, D-Bond, and John C. Stennis, D-Miss., were unopposed for re-nomination.

In the general election, Natcher will face Rhodes Bratcher, Owensboro, the only Republican to file for the nomination in the 2nd Congressional District, but Watts' November opponent will be selected next month from among three GOP candidates.

The primary election will determine the last Congressional District's representative—and it will be a Democrat again.

No GOP Filers
No Republicans filed for the race but Democratic Louis P. McHenry, a Negro attorney from Hopkinsville, and Bob Watson, Central City, will attempt to unseat incumbent U.S. Rep. Frank A. Stubblefield.

The longest congressional ballot will be in the heavily Republican 5th District where 15 candidates offered themselves for the GOP nomination to succeed U.S. Rep. Eugene A. Siler, Williamsburg, who declined not to seek re-election. Three persons filed for the Democratic nomination there, too.

Granville Thomas, Tullahoma, another 5th District Republican, chose instead to run in the 6th District where the GOP nominee will meet Watts in November. First Thomas must defeat state Sen. John W. "Bully" Swepe, Harrodsburg Route 5, and Leslie Pope, a Lexington Negro, for the nomination.

Not Seen for Snyder
In the 3rd District, Snyder should have only taken opposition in the primary from Mrs. Margaret M. Riley and Jesse N. R. Cecil, both of Louisville.

Six Democrats, however, seek the opportunity to oppose him in the primary, which among them being former Louisville Mayor Charles P. Farnley and state Rep. Norbert L. Blume, both of Louisville. Philip Jackson Jr., Edward Gaffard and J. Benjamin Horton, all of Louisville, also seek the Democratic nomination. Horton is a Negro.

Opposing Siler in his bid for re-nomination in the 4th Congressional District will be John L. Ward, Harrodsburg; Wilton B. Culp, Owensboro; John W. Lantz of Marysville subdivision, Bullitt County, and R. L. Hardin, Carrollton. Hardin was the last candidate to file for the primary, waiting until six minutes before midnight.

Clyde Middleton, Fort Mitchell, who lost to Siler in a fairly close race two years ago and Fred C. Whitehead, Lebanon Junction, seek the Republican nomination in the 4th.

Perkins will be opposed in the 7th District primary by state Rep. Allie Young, Morehead, who filed close to the deadline, and Ann B. Hall, Bypro. Tom Layne and former mayor David Aronberg, both of Ashland, will be on the 7th District's GOP primary ballot.

Former state Rep. Frances Mills, Gray, will be pitted against Herbert H. Fowler, Manchester, and Clarence McCraw, Evans, for the 5th District nomination.

The winner of that race will face one of the following Republicans in November:
State Sen. Pleaz Mobley or Letcher T. White, both of Manchester; state Sen. Durham Howard, Pineville; Dr. Tim Lee Carter, Tompkinsville; Joe McCauley, Middleboro; Daniel Boone Smith or H. Clinton Eaton, both of Harlan; Robert L. Milby, James E. McCracken.

By United Press International
Heavy snow and strong winds buffeted the Northern Rockies today and closed highways in Wyoming. Violent hailstorms and near tornado winds lashed the Midwest Thursday night.

Snow piled 9 inches deep at Cheyenne, Wyo., and blocked the main highways leading north and south out of the city. Some motorists were reported stranded by the blowing, drifting snow-bus-all were rescued.

The storm also blocked roads between Riverton and Lander, Wyo., where 5 inches of snow fell in a few hours during the night. Joy northern winds gusting at 40 miles an hour whipped snow into the air at Cheyenne, Wyo., and cut visibility to a half mile at Akron, Colo.

Stockmen's warnings were posted for most of the Northern Rockies southwestward into Arizona, New Mexico, Nebraska and Kansas. The storm was expected to push rain, snow and sleet eastward across the Great Plains during the day.

Tornado-strength winds and wind-breaking hail battered much of the Midwest Thursday night.

One man was injured when high winds ripped the roof off a school house at Farnersville, Ill. About 30 persons were enjoying a pot-luck dinner in the building when the storm struck.

Hail and high winds also swept Indiana, with wind gusts of 54 miles per hour reported at Indianapolis. Lafayette was drenched with 1.40 inches of rain in six hours.

John Swann Is Speaker Here On Wednesday

John W. Swann, State Director for the Kentucky Retarded and the Kentucky County Association for the Mentally Retarded, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Calloway County Association for the Mentally Retarded, which will be held at the home of Mrs. J. C. Swann, 1602 Ryan Ave., Murray, Ky., on Wednesday, April 8, at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. Swann complimented the people of Murray for their continued effort on behalf of the retarded. He said that there were twenty seven similar organizations over the state.

He posed the question to the group "What is our responsibility to the retarded?"

He answered by saying that it is "our responsibility to see that each child has the opportunity to develop completely whatever talent he has."

They should have equal education in order to develop them to their fullest capacities, he said.

The public must be educated to the fact that acceptance, not pity, is the great need.

Personal contact, opportunity for acceptance and recreation is of the utmost importance, he told the group. A local association will go far in carrying out these points, he continued.

The more the other chapters are formed, the greater pressure can be brought to bear to secure legislation for aid to the retarded, he said.

He pointed out the manner in which their aid various kinds can be obtained.

Federal money, state funds, and training programs are now available to local groups, he continued, for the betterment of the retarded.

Fred Wells Is Speaker For Kiwanis Club

The Kiwanis Club of Murray held its regular weekly meeting Thursday night at the South Side Restaurant where the members heard a talk by Fred Wells, vice-chairman of the Calloway County Fair Board. Wells was introduced by Kenneth Adams, program chairman.

Wells outlined the short history of the fair which he stated was first organized by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1890. The first fair was staged on Chestnut street and attracted about ten thousand visitors. The Fair Board was chartered in 1960 and that year the fair was held on the Ryan property west of Murray.

In 1962 the Board acquired a tract of about 62 acres on the Mayfield Road west of Murray and set up a much larger area for the exhibits and other entertainments. The Fair did not show a profit in 1963 due to the expenditures on improvements which included the enlarging of the grand stand and a new pavilion. This work was done under the direction of Harold Beaman. Further improvements in the grounds are not planned at this time but rather better shows, exhibits and programs.

Considerable improvements are planned for the parking arrangements and the admission gates to avoid the confusion and difficulties that have prevailed in the past seasons. Plans for the 1964 Fair are not yet complete but tentative dates are around the early part or middle of July.

The Kiwanis Board of Directors met following the regular meeting and selected the dates of April 16 and 23 for the annual spring donut sale. The club will stage the sale this year on two different dates so that the members will be better able to serve the whole city. In the past years many people have been missed due to the lack of time and help to cover the whole area.

Juveniles Picked Up Last Night

Five juveniles were picked up last night at North 18th and Olive Streets in a stolen car, according to Vernon Roberts and Leo Alexander, Murray State College policemen, who were on routine patrol at the time of the pickup.

Roberts said this morning that they had received word to be on the lookout for a car stolen from B. G. Thurmond of South 11th Street and as they came out from the street by the administration building they noticed the car and its license number.

The boys were brought before juvenile judge Robert O. Miller last night and were released in custody of their parents. A hearing has been set for a later date, Roberts said.

Short Meeting Is Held Last Night By City Council

The Murray City Council met last night in a meeting lasting only fifty minutes, for one of the shortest on record. The council met last night, rather than at the regular date, since several members will be out of town next week, during the KEA school vacation.

Reeroofing of pavilions in the city park will be undertaken by the city street department.

Dennis Taylor was hired as City Park Supervisor for the summer months. He will begin his duties about May 15.

Grading work has started on the curb and gutter project in Cincinnati. Water lines will be run to vacant lots now before the streets in the subdivision are paved. Sewerage lines have already been extended.

Council Leonard Vaughn reported that about 7,000 yards of dirt had been removed from the city clear-well site on Elm street.

The area is now about level with the street and it will soon be excavated down to the proper depth. Bids will be asked on the reinforcement of the reservoir. The large reservoir will hold over one million gallons of water and is intended to give the city a larger above ground supply of water. The reservoir will be below ground and is located on East Elm street.

A letter was read from Mrs. Walter Blakely thanking the city and the city fire department for saving the family's home about one and one-half miles north of Murray on the Benton road.

The ten inch line being put down by the Murray Water System is well on the way according to Superintendent Rob Hale. The line proceeds from the city well just below Elm street, north along the railroad toward the Tappan Company. The line then goes under the railroad east along the East Highway. The line will increase water pressure along the railroad and will also be used to supply the water district which is located east of Murray on Highway 94. It is now as far as the Robertson Tobacco Barn.

Fire Chief Flavil Robertson requested permission to use the city park for the training of new firemen in the extinguishing of flames.

Minnesota Twins Have An Eye On The American League Flag

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the 13th in a series of 20 dispatches on the 1964 prospects of the major league baseball teams.)

By LEO H. PETERSEN

UPI Sports Editor

ORLANDO, Fla. 4P — The Minnesota Twins have been coming close and this is the year their manager, Sam Mele, thinks they can come of age by winning the American League pennant.

He says there's only two things they have to do to dethrone the New York Yankees — tighten up their defense and cut down on their strikeouts.

"We're not thinking about anything but winning it all," Mele adds. "And once we do that, you can count on us to stay on top for a long time. For we are a young club and I think we have more players on our team who have yet to hit their peak than any other team in the league."

He rattled off the ages of his chief hopes.

Outfielders Harmon Killebrew, Bob Allison and Jimmie Hall are 27, 29 and 26, respectively. They form the hitting core of the Twins. They hit 112 home runs and batted in a total of 267. No outfielder in the league — including that of those perennial winners, the Yankees — came close to that power.

He thinks his infield of Vic Power at first base, Bernie Allen at second, Zoilo Versalles at short and Richie Rollins at third will improve this year.

All the infielders, except Power, were a disappointment with their gloves and their bats. Power did the job in the field but he failed so badly at bat that he was benched for Don Mincher, a long ball hitter whose fielding does not measure up.

Rollins and Allen were outstanding rookies in 1962. Last year they fell off. Versalles made more errors in the first half of last season than he did in all of 1962.

"You can't win with the kind of fielding we had," Mele points out. "But I know they are better glove men than last."

The Twins have one of the better catchers in the league in Earl Battey. Behind him are Gerry Zimmerman and Paul Ratliff — not too much of a reserve core there. But as Mele points out, second string catching are hard to come by.

Several Good Starters

For starting pitchers the Twins have right handers, Camilo Pascual (21-9), Jim Perry (9-9) and Lefty Stange (12-5) and left handed Dick Stigman (15-15) and Jim Kaat (10-10).

Heading the bullpen will be Bill Dailey (6-3), whom Mele regards as the second best relief pitcher in the league — only behind Dick Radatz of the Boston Red Sox. After there is a dropoff in the Twins pitching, there's Bill Fischer, who had a 9-6 record with the Kansas City Athletics last year; holdovers Bill Plets (6-2), Jim Roland (4-1) and Garry Roggenburg (3-4), and they figure in the relief category.

He definitely is not worried about his pitching or his power. It's defense and strikeouts which concern him most.

They are the key to the Twins' chances in 1964.

Mele likes them, and so do a lot of other baseball experts.

Fred B. Redwine, Pikeville, filed only for the Democratic nomination, but incumbent Judge Robert B. Bird, London; John Marshall Prewitt, Mount Sterling; Edward P. Hill, Prestonsburg; Mrs. Cassie P. Allen, Blue Point, and E. B. Beatty, Beattyville, will be candidates in both primaries.

In the race to fill the unexpired term of the late Russell Jones, Somerset, commonwealth attorney for Putnam and Rockcastle counties, Democrat John G. Prather, Somerset, will meet C. Homer Nickirk, a Somerset Republican in November. Both are unopposed.

Drawings for ballot positions will be made Saturday in Mrs. Stovall's office.

DRYING TIP

JOLIET, Ill. 4P — Some of the new synthetic blends require extra drying as well as washing. One such product is Orion Savelle, which should be tumbled dried if washed in a machine. If instructions are not followed, the garment will stretch beyond any practical size. If hand washed the garment should be air dried, reports the American Institute of Laundering.

Torre Late For Signing 1964 Contract, Hit 2 Homers Thurs. Win Game 7-5 Over Pirates

By TIM MORIARTY

United Press International

Maybe all members of the Milwaukee Braves should have spent the first month of spring training in Brooklyn.

That's where Joe Torre remained until March 20 — and now rival pitchers can't get him out.

The bushy-browed catcher — first baseman from Flatbush unloosed a two-run homer in the 11th inning to earn the Braves a 7-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Thursday at Port Myers, Fla. It was Torre's fourth hit of the game and raised his spring batting average to an even .500, based on nine hits in 18 at bats.

Shown Up Late

Torre showed up at the Braves camp three weeks late after a prolonged contract squabble with club President John McHale. Big Joe complained he "was not treated well" when he finally signed for an estimated $25,000. But his bitterness apparently hasn't affected his hitting.

Six Close Games

Jim Wynn of the Houston Colts matched Torre's heroics Thursday in an 8-4 victory over the New York Mets. He, too, collected four hits, including a two-run homer in the eighth inning that tied the score at 4-4 and a grand slammer in the 12th that dealt the Mets their 12th defeat in 20 tuneups.

Ed Baesa, who had allowed only two hits and no runs in eight innings of toil this spring, was the victim of Wynn's game winning blow. Dick Smith hit a two-run homer for the Mets.

Six of the seven other exhibitions Thursday were decided by one-run margins. Only the Reds won with ease, whipping the Tigers, 8-3, to break a five-game losing streak. The "squeakers" were the Indians over the Giants, 4-3; the Cardinals of the Dodgers, 3-1; the Twins over the Yankees, 2-1; the White Sox over the Orioles, 8-7; the Phillies over the A's, 2-1 and the Angels over the Cubs, 6-5.

Frank Robinson collected a single and a double and Vada Pinson added a homer to pace the Reds' 10-hit attack. Rookie Sammy Ellis, who pitched the first seven innings, and lefty Bill Henry limited the Tigers to seven hits.

A home run by Willie Mays ignited a three-run spurge by the Giants in the fourth inning but it was Dick Dietz' infield single in the ninth inning that accounted for the winning run. It was the Giants' eighth victory in eight meetings with Cleveland this spring.

SPORTS PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY

United Press International

MIAMI 4P — Sen. Philip A. Hart, the Michigan Democrat who headed the Washington investigation into the Sonny Liston-Cassius Clay fight fiasco, has to be credited today with the pugilistic understatement of the year.

The money machinations which went on behind the scenes aren't too amazing because the boxing tiger seldom changes his stripes. But after hearing President Ed Lassman of the World Boxing Association admit he knew two Ruyonnesque gentlemen who were on the spot it drew a significant remark from the senator.

WBA and state commission regulation of "the game," the senator asserted, has not been an "astounding success."

Expects Little

This investigation, like the previous Kefauver sideshow, is expected to produce just about the same results. Namely nothing. One reason is that the Senate is boxing a civil rights issue and the politicians are anxious to get home and do some politicking.

But certainly Lassman, a Miami Beach sandwich man, proved once again that there is an awful lot of ham on rye even outside the nation's Capitol.

This is the same Lassman who wanted to strip gaseous Cassius of his world heavyweight title until he reformed.

There could be only two reasons for such an insane act. The first would be because yon Cassius has a big mouth. The second would be because he is an admitted Black Muslim.

Cheese Champion

"Now I'll have to admit that Old Fearless thinks Cassius is a cheese champion, whether on white or rye. I was not one of those who applauded him as 'the greatest.' So that he would stay for his post-fight interview the night Liston had sitting sickness. For all of me he could have walked right then, and still been walking."

CBS Introduces Two New Panel Shows Sunday; Golf Tourney Also On CBS; Ernie Ford On NBC

By JACK GIVNER
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Columbia Broadcasting System will introduce two new panel-game shows next week to fill the Sunday night hour vacated by the cancelled Judy Garland variety program.

CBS will cover play in the Masters golf tournament next Saturday, and NBC will have a Friday one-hour variety special headed by Tennessee Ernie Ford.

Highlight details April 5-11:

Sunday

ABC's "Challenge Golf" series comes to an end for the season with the repeat of the April 4 match at Las Vegas between the Gary Player-Arnold Palmer and Byron Nelson-Ken Venturi teams.

The first of the new CBS panel shows is "Made in America." Bob Maxwell is host as three celebrity panelists, changed by the week, try to identify three contestants who are millionaires and to guess the source of their wealth. The second new CBS panel show is "The Celebrity Game." Carl Reiner is host. A rotating panel of nine Hollywood personalities hears three contestants state their positions on fun-type questions and register their agreement or disagreement. The contestants have to guess how the stars have voted.

"Du Pont Show of the Week" on NBC has a Robert Thom original, "Jeremy Rabbit, the Secret Avenger," with such outstanding players as Jim Backus, Frank Conroy, Brian Donlevy, Carolyn Jones, Walter Matthau and Franchot Tone. A week court stenographer takes it upon himself to deal with gangsters the law can't seem to touch.

NBC's "Monday Night at the Movies" screens "The Virgin Queen," starring Bette Davis as England's Elizabeth I.

ABC's "The Outer Limits" "The Special One." A young lad is tutored, supposedly by a U. S. government agent, for living conditions on another planet.

"East Side West Side" on CBS repeats "Who Do You Kill." The problems of a young Negro couple trying to get out of a slum environment.

Tuesday

Valid reasons are discovered for a new lieutenant's rough treatment of his men on a mission to destroy a bridge in "Command" on ABC's "Combat."

"The Homecoming" is the fare on ABC's "The Fugitive." The hero is drawn unwillingly into a struggle between a step-mother and daughter for domination of a family business. The first television performance of composer Hoagy Carmichael's "Johnny Appleseed" suite for narrator, singer, dancer and orchestra will be given on NBC's "Bell Telephone Hour." Ginger Rogers will be both hostess and performer, and others on the show will be Carmichael, dancer Edward Villella, opera singers Robert Merrill and James McCracken, jazz musician Red Nichols and singer Helen O'Connell.

Wednesday

Walter Lippmann, noted columnist, on national and international affairs, will make another of his appearances on CBS, discussing current matters in an interview by Eric Sevareid.

Paul Burke, Bethel Leelle and Lois Smith are guest stars in "A Pattern of Sundays" for NBC's "The Eleventh Hour." A married minister seeks psychiatric help after an indiscretion involving a widowed parishioner.

The "Charming" story on ABC is "My Son, the All-American" previously scheduled and postponed. A star athlete decides to follow more academic pursuits.

Thursday

NBC's "Temple Houston" starts a series of repeats with "The Twisted Rope." A woman hires Houston to defend her two brothers who are accused of killing the sheriff and are in danger of being lynched.

Another of Perry Como's periodic one-hour shows comes from Minneapolis over NBC. Bob Newhart, Peter Nero and Keely Smith are on the card. "Kraft Suspense Theater" is preempted.

Friday

"The Great Adventure" on CBS has the finale of its two-part series about Daniel Boone. The pioneer tries to negotiate with the Indians and British to prevent an attack on Boonesborough.

"The Tennessee Ernie Ford Hour" is an NBC special in which the star will be assisted by Jack Benny, Amette, Dorothy Provine and Andy Williams. "Chrysler Theater" is preempted.

A playboy baseball player is suspected of murdering a party girl.

Miss Bodie Carolyn Mann Is Married To
Billy Joe Outland In Church Ceremony

MR. AND MRS. BILLY JOE OUTLAND

One of the very pretty prearranged events of the early spring season was the lovely candlelight wedding of Miss Bodie Carolyn Mann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Mann, Fulton, Route One, and Billy Joe Outland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmas Outland of Murray.

The wedding was solemnized March 30, 1964 in the Riceville Baptist Church.

Rev. Randall Johnson performed the double ring ceremony before an altar graced with large baskets of white gladioli and green foliage, flanked with branched candelabra holding soft glowing tapers.

Miss Mann was lovely in a white slipper gown made by her mother. The gown was designed with bell-shaped skirt, chapel length train, basque fitted waist, long sleeves tapering with deep points over hands with tiny satin covered buttons. Her veil of illusion was shoulder length with a white satin pill box hat.

The bride's bouquet was of white carnations centered with a large white purple-throated orchid and surrounded by tiny seed pearls.

The maid of honor, Miss Mae Mann, sister of the bride, was dressed in red satin designed with bell skirt with three-quarter length sleeves and street length. She carried a red and white carnation corsage.

Miss Sue Ann Wade of Murray was the junior bridesmaid and Miss Kaye Mann of Fulton presided at the register. They were dressed in identical frocks of red satin. The attendants wore a single strand of pearls which were gifts from the bride.

James Outland of Calvert City, brother of the groom, was best man.

Charles Outland, brother of the groom and Don Mann, brother of the bride, served as ushers.

The bride was given in marriage by her oldest brother, James Mann. The bride's mother was dressed in a two-piece navy blue crepe dress with white and black pattern accessories. Her corsage was of red carnations.

The groom's mother wore a two-piece white wool suit with black accessories. Her corsage was of red carnations.

The pianist, Mrs. Frank LeMaster, wore red crepe. She accompanied the bride and groom with "Because I Love You Truly" preceding the ceremony. During the wedding ceremony he sang, "The Wedding Prayer."

Mrs. LeMaster played Mendelssohn's wedding marches.

After the ceremony a small reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The wedding was made by Miss Patsy Holder, presented as a gift to the bride.

Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Outland left for a wedding trip to New Orleans, La. For travel the bride wore a light pink wool with pink hat and gloves, black purse and slippers. She wore white orchid from her bridesmaid.

The couple will be at home in Calvert City, where the groom is an employee of the Pennsalt Chemical Co. at there.

Out-of-town friends and relatives attending the wedding were: Mr.

Dear Abby . . .

Tread Lightly, Mom!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of a 16-year old daughter. She is kind, thoughtful and helpful around the house. She wears the key to her diary on a chain around her neck. The other day she forgot it. I don't know what made me do it, Abby, because I have always trusted her but I did an unforgivable thing. I opened her diary and read it. What a shock I got! I was sick inside. You would never believe the things she does outside the house! My problem is, how do I let her know that I know these things about her without telling her that I read her diary? Should I tell her dad about her goings on? It would break his heart as she is our only child.

WORRIED SICK

DEAR WORRIED: You already know that reading your daughter's diary was "unforgivable." I don't recommend that you tell your daughter. It's apparent that she needs the friendship of a mature, understanding person in whom she can confide. Perhaps it's not too late to build that kind of relationship with her. Try, and try hard; and, if you succeed, she will tell you all about her "goings on" herself. If she doesn't, keep an eye on her. There will be other clues.

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law is a very outspoken person. When she invites my husband and me to her home for dinner she asks us to leave the children home. She says too much "commotion" makes her nervous. Ours are 5, 7, 8 and 10, and they aren't any worse than anybody else's. She lets us bring them every Sunday for supper when she has all her other grandchildren there. There are eleven in all, and I wonder why the "commotion" doesn't make her nervous then. I am ready to tell my husband if his mother doesn't want my children during the week, she doesn't have to put grandfather.

up with them on Sundays, either. Am I wrong?

MENDEL'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Yes, you are wrong. Take the children to their grandmother's on Sundays and keep quiet.

DEAR ABBY: I live in a small town and would like to know how one goes about making a donation to the HEART FUND or the CANCER SOCIETY at the time of death when the family requests a donation instead of flowers. How is the family made aware of the donation? I am sure there are others who would like to know, too. Thank you.

UNSURE IN TANKTOWN

DEAR UNSURE: Consult your telephone directory for the local headquarters. If there is none, write to national headquarters: American Cancer Society, Inc., 215 East 42nd Street, New York, New York 10017, and American Heart Association, 44 East 23rd Street, New York, New York 10010. They will let the bereaved family know of the donation and who sent it, but will not reveal the amount.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SANDRA: When a man tells you that he is poor marriage material — believe him. He knows himself better than you know him.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply write to ABBY, Box 3366, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3366, Beverly Hills, Calif.

CHAPTER 21

As D.C. disappeared around the Randall house, Zeke Kels moved swiftly across the back yard. His foam rubber soles touched the thick soil softly and noiselessly.

Rounding the corner, he brought himself up short and scanned the long, narrow passageway between houses for sign of movement. The night was so black that he could barely discern the outline of shrubs. He was conscious of his own breathing, which was loud in the stillness. He noted he was opposite the Macdonough kitchen, and sensed a presence inside. He dropped to a squatting position.

Up near the street a luminous tail swished back and forth from under a shrub as D.C. eased the layout ahead, his eyes mica bright. A fellow couldn't be too careful in scouting enemy territory.

In that no man's land beyond dogs roamed about, determined to maintain their fabled superiority, thinking themselves a superior race. He hated the breed. And tomcats lurked out there like so many punk hoodlums, eager to win a reputation for themselves fighting.

D.C. slinked into the darkness, walking rapidly. At the same moment D.C. shot across Greg's front yard and raced down the driveway, his collar bell tinkling. Zeke caught mere by a flash of black under a street light. He hurried after him, and halfway down the driveway fell over a child's bicycle.

Even in falling he never took his eyes from the white tail whisking itself ahead of him, a luminous tail that seemed disembodied. He rose quickly, fearful he would lose the informant, and was censured by the Bureau, maybe even draw a cut in salary. An agent could expect serious repercussions if he lost a surveillance in an important case.

The tail stopped under a shrub and once more began describing pale arcs in the blackness. Zeke had an uneasy feeling that those quick eyes had spotted him. He stood as motionless as a cigar store Indian and waited for the cat's next move.

The tail arched and a head emerged with the ears flattened down. The head drew the body after it, and everything—the head, the body, and tail—once more arranged themselves in proper juxtaposition.

Slowly D.C. treaded pantherlike across Greg's back yard. He came to a pause by a tubous begonia and sniffed it. He scanned all of the shadows in the yard, and brought his lips up to rest finally on the back door, which had been hung open widely on several occasions in the past by a party completely deranged.

All of this time Zeke remained stationary by the corner of the house, hidden in a shadow cast by a eucalyptus. The night continued quiet, and in the stillness he recognized both enemy and friend. Nothing could move without creating sound, including himself.

He watched engrossed as D.C. began an excavation job by the tuberosa begonia. He began slowly, and then warmed up to his work with enthusiasm until his feet were kicking out the dirt with machine-like strokes. Zeke said into the mike, "Informant under bush, digging in Balter back yard."

In the police car two miles away Officer Tracy shook his head incredulously. "Digging? What the hell goes on, Al?" "Must be digging up a body in a homicide."

"With a midget?" Running half doubled up, Zeke slipped to the cover of a shrub across the way from D.C. He had barely gained the shrub when a shotgun blast roared through the night, so close by that the explosion deafened his hearing. As he fell flat to the ground, he saw the cat shoot ten feet straight into the air, as if by a missile. Zeke saw the direction of the shot, as he struck the ground, and in the same instant his hand drew the thirty-eight Colt.

His finger went home to the trigger as his eyes darted around the yard searching for the party manning the shotgun. He was so keyed up that he jumped when a door slammed hard, as if the door were violently angry. At once he pegged it as the back one to the Balter house.

He waited a long, dragged-out second, continuing to watch the door, fearful it might open a crack to permit the shotgun to take aim. Only once did his eyes leave it, and that time to sweep the yard for the cat, who was nowhere in sight.

He heard the growling, excited babble of voices as neighbors opened windows and doors and others streamed out of their homes. He whispered rapidly into the mike, "Unknown party fired one shotgun blast from back of Greg Balter house, then apparently fled. No sign of informant. Come in, ten, twelve."

"Twelve in. Lost informant. Went completely off scope."

"Ten in. No informant on sound pattern. Continuing to scan."

Zeke continued, "All units. Attempt pick up trace of informant. Neighbors closing in here. Am returning to operation base. That's all, Out."

"Greg stared at Patti with calculating eyes and asked slowly, 'How did you know I took a shot at anything? Who told you?' The story continues here tomorrow."

An investment in Your Future ...ATTEND CHURCH

"For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also"

"HI DADDY"

"Hi Daddy! When are you coming home?"

How happy it would make our Heavenly Father if we responded to His voice in the same joyous manner that this little child has responded to his Daddy's voice.

Enthusiasm for God's Way would turn a greater number of people toward God and His love.

"I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord" (Psalms 122:1) would be a joyous response to God's command, "Forsake not the assembling of yourselves together." (Hebrews 10:25)

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
